

Mental Health Awareness and Education – the Swim England approach

Introduction

Swim England is aware that athletes on the pathway are coming forward indicating they have mental health issues. Results from the British Swimming central screening show that the prevalence of mental health issues in elite swimmers are in keeping with that of the general population. This means that up to 20% of swimmers may have issues with mental health.

We want to help all our athletes, coaches, staff and volunteers to have positive mental wellbeing.

But just like with physical wellbeing, when mental wellbeing isn't as positive as you'd like, help may be needed.

We've...Got UR Back is a Swim England campaign to support positive mental health. We will be producing a video for use at open meets, regional and county championships and for our web site to highlight mental wellbeing. We are continuing to work with the National Youth Advisory Panel to create resources which can be used by young people.

Awareness

We have also produced a Mental Health Pathway which is on the website. We would like to encourage clubs to download and put it on their noticeboards and other key areas to raise awareness of the support available. This should help if an athlete, coach, staff or volunteer is having difficulties. It highlights where people can get help and gives some numbers and website links for charities who have help lines for emergencies.

To continue to raise awareness via social media, we would also encourage regions, counties and clubs to place this pathway on their websites as well as include it in communication to clubs and members.

Education

Swim England will be hosting a series of online webinars for coaches, staff and volunteers to present more information about mental wellness.

This first webinar is Tuesday 10th December at 8pm. The session will last 45 minutes with an opportunity for questions at the end of the session.

This session will also be recorded and subsequently published online. Based on feedback, we will seek to deliver further sessions during 2020.

Mental Health First Aid training courses available to book for clubs, counties and regions

Raising Awareness Education

Mind, the Mental Health Charity, has been supported by Sport England to develop a workshop to raise awareness of the importance of mental health. This is an online or face to face course which will give knowledge, skills and confidence to better understand and support people living with mental health problems, and create a positive environment that ensures they enjoy the benefits of being active and keep coming back:-

Mental Health First Aid Education

Several organisations offer training in mental health first aid which helps attendees understand the signs and symptoms of individuals experiencing mental health difficulties and provides guidance on where signpost those who are struggling. Each is offered in either a 3 hour, 1 day or 2 day course and we recommend that you research the content before deciding on which course meets your individual needs.

The following courses are available:

- Adult mental health first aid
- Youth mental health first aid- This YMHFA course de-stigmatises mental ill health and attendees report greater confidence in managing situations where young people do present with troubling symptoms.

The main 4 organisations offering the training are:

1. Mental health First Aid England
